

The Kinsey Sicks

Changing the World
One Act at a Time

OUTmedia is a leading source for LGBTQ and queer-affirmative national acts and celebrity talent, and other multicultural talent and speakers. We are deeply committed to the promotion of diversity within mainstream and LGBTQ culture, giving voice to African-American, Latino/a, Asian, Jewish and women artists.

OUTmedia has worked on TV and film projects including VH1, Comedy Central, The Letterman Show, MTV's LOGO, The View, HBO, NBC, and the film "I Wanna Be a Republican," and "Almost Infamous" featuring the Kinsey Sicks. OUTmedia spearheaded development runs of Margaret Cho's "Notorious C.H.O.," and the Kinsey Sicks' "Dragapella." OUTmedia associate produced the off-Broadway run of Rob Nash's "Holy Cross Sucks!," (now titled "School Sucks!") that won rave reviews in the NY Times, and Variety and was chosen Top 10 Broadway/ Off-Broadway by Time Out NY.

OUTmedia is a leading queer cultural activist organization and social enterprise. Our mission is to increase the positive visibility of LGBTQ people and promote inclusive multiculturalism through the arts. Using the arts as a vehicle for societal change, we work to give voice to our lives through live performance events, and have been in the forefront of the movement for LGBTQ awareness and inclusion in the music, comedy, film, TV, and record industries. OUTmedia has been ground-breaking in spreading queer culture around the globe.
